Modification; protection cover for size group connector for Vision

Sometimes it happens that the dampening water will splash out of the water tray. This water can float over the Size Group connector. It is also possible that the connector will be hit by water or oil by disassembling/ cleaning of the machine.

To protect the connector a cover can be mounted over the size group connector to make it less sensible for water and oil.

- More robust and less sensitive machine.
- Increased reliability.
- Less operator care needed
